

Please accept this comment as my request not to tamper with the current Indiana laws regarding telephone privacy. The current law provides for my desire not to be contacted by companies who desire my business. Should I be forced to accept these calls, they will be screened and those taking advantage of any new law will no longer have me as a customer or potential customer. Leave well enough alone!